DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-4, 7-58, 113-115, 119, 120 are drawn to a device comprising a substrate having a plurality of magnetic regions having gaps between them, the magnetic regions having maximum width and length being parallel to the surface of the substrate, classified in class 204, subclass 182.8 .
- II. Claims 5, 7-9, drawn to a device having an upper surface having a plurality of magnetic regions having gaps between them, the magnetic regions having maximum width and length being parallel to the surface of the substrate, classified in class 422, subclass 50.
- III. Claims 59-67, 113-115, 125, drawn to a device having magnetic regions projecting above the surface of the substrate, classified in class 428, subclass 65.3.
- IV. Claims 116-118, 121, 122 are drawn to a device having magnetic regions which are not rectangular, classified in class 422, subclass 50.
- V. Claim 123, drawn to a device comprising magnetic regions and photodetectors, classified in class 356, subclass 440.
- VI. Claim 124, drawn to a device comprising magnetic regions and channel, classified in class 422, subclass 186.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Art Unit: 1641

Inventions I and II, III, IV, V, or VI are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different designs, modes of operation, and effects (MPEP § 802.01 and § 806.06). In the instant case, the different inventions I-VI are unrelated because they are not usable together because invention II has an upper surface which is not required in invention I and therefore they have different designs, invention III has magnetic regions projecting above the surface of the substrate; invention IV has magnetic regions not rectangular; invention V has magnetic regions and photodetectors; invention VI has magnetic regions connected to channels.

Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and there would be a serious burden on the examiner if restriction is not required because the inventions have acquired a separate status in the art in view of their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and there would be a serious burden on the examiner if restriction is not required because the inventions require a different field of search (see MPEP § 808.02), restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and there would be a serious burden on the examiner if restriction is not required because the inventions have acquired a separate status in the art due to their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Art Unit: 1641

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Pensee T. Do whose telephone number is 571-272-0819. The examiner can normally be reached on Monday-Friday, 8:00-4:00.
